

Revolutionizing the way human insight drives decision-making since 1999.

Who We Are

We are “different.” That's what nearly every customer tells us: different from the endless stream of sales and support teams peopled by the enervated, the indifferent, the uninspired. Different because we understand the importance of the issues our clients face, because we're excited to help, because we relate to the people we work with and the goals they seek to achieve.

But we are also very much the same: genuine people serving the needs of those who place their faith in us by remaining accessible, attentive, and engaged.

We are a select group of resourceful, enterprising, high achievers, who excel at accomplishing more with less, and who regard each new challenge as an opportunity to triumph. A diverse group united by our unflagging commitment to success; strengthened by our varied backgrounds, skills, and perspectives; and keenly aware that it is, in fact, our diversity that enables us to connect with others, appreciate a multitude of viewpoints, and enjoy working alongside people from every corner of the globe.

Why We Succeed

We invest fully in everything we do and painstakingly perfect everything we create. In fact, it is our obsession to over-deliver and exceed expectations that defines our corporate culture.

Whether it be for our customers or for ourselves, nothing ever stops at "good enough." Rather, we actively seek to improve our abilities at every turn, to find ways to go above and beyond, to deliver products, services, and experiences that exceed and overjoy.

In addition, we are honest and fair with everyone, both in our communication and in our full and eager acceptance of our responsibilities to our customers, ourselves, and each other. We believe these are the reasons we continue to flourish and grow.

How We Help

At Brillium, we talk frequently - very frequently! - about how we are an extension of every team we serve, in partnership with every organization using our software. That means that whether your organization is made up of a single entrepreneur or an international team of millions, we bring the full force of our mighty resources to bear to help you find the solutions you seek, as well as the ones you may only vaguely anticipate.

Since 1999, we have been tapping into the most valuable of all commodities: knowledge. Today, we continue to use that knowledge to help our customers develop manageable and sustainable workflows that fit the resources they have available and to empower our customers to make sense of people-centric data that helps decisions result in the most optimal outcomes.

Our people. Our software. Your team.
A proven, winning combination!
